Dear Ms. Turner

In response to your job posting on indeed.com for a hiring position for Behavior Interventionist with the Intercare Therapy company in the city of Long Beach, CA, I have attached my resume for your review and additional details.

I am currently pursuing my Bachelor of Science in Health Science with the option in Community Health Education as a senior at Cal State Long Beach. The position seems to fit well with my experience, education, and career interest. Through my academic study experience, I have gained the ability to conduct health-related research, communicate and advocate for health education, and assess needs, resources, and capacity for health in communities. In addition, I have demonstrated the ability to complete assignments in a timely manner by earning to be on the president's honor list in the last three semesters. A practical skill that I will contribute to this job is my comprehension, communication, and bilingual (Spanish) skills.

Granting me the opportunity to work at Intercare, I can assist in identifying individual goals by assessing the challenging behaviors, helping families recognize the perfect program that will best fit their child's needs. Moreover, I can help to prioritize their goals to accommodate their needs. To conclude, I can evaluate the progress and accommodate changes required for the programs using my health education and evaluation skills.

As I outgrow my career and new experiences, I hope my academic background and skills will convey to you that I have the required qualifications to make an extraordinary contribution to Intercare. I would like the opportunity to meet with you for a personal interview, and I can be best reached by the contact information provided above. Thank you in advance!

Sincerely,

Gissell Salazar
